In 2009 DEQ/MSP Region 5 in collaboration with HVCEO and other nearby regional planning organizations identified the need to develop emergency diversion plans for parts of I-84, Route 7 and Route 8. The goal was to shorten response time to incidents, achieve lane clearance with greater speed, safety and efficiency, and better manage resulting congestion on local streets.

Municipal emergency personnel already have experience with occasional expressway closings. But nowhere has there been an official plan for both state agencies and municipal departments to follow. And local officials with expressway diversion experience change over time, taking their experience with them.

Formalized diversion plans in Connecticut are not a new idea. They have been completed by CT DOT for I-95, I-91, and a portion of I-84 from Exit 34 in Plainville to the Mass. Line. This DEQ/MSP project built upon the methodologies of those efforts.

The transportation planning firm Wilbur Smith Associates was contracted for this federally funded work. CT DOT staff provided comment throughout. State Police, municipal police and emergency management directors provided input.

The result is a series of exit to exit diversion plans, developed for incidents resulting in the full closure of a highway segment between two exits. The incident commander will decide whether an incident is severe enough such that one or more exit to exit diversion plans will be invoked.

HVCEO will provide a link to the 11X17 pdf maps on its web site. Primary hosting will be at CT DOT. HVCEO will also print hard copies for distribution to affected communities. THESE ARE ATTACHED.

INDEX TO ROUTE 7 AND I-84 EXPRESSWAY
EMERGENCY TRAFFIC DIVERSION MAPS

If a traffic diversion plan is to be implemented, the incident commander will notify other agencies through the appropriate traffic diversion plan "response code." The response code is noted on the lower right corner of each 11 X 17 inch diversion map (RP number).
